it is to the hope that the faces shown upon these pages shall reflect forever the truth, liberty,

faith
and happiness which are so abundant in today's United States of America that this book is dedicated.

Forgetting for a second our country or the faith which our country allows us to have may lead to the end of one of the most precious commodities of all — peace.

foreword

The East high school of 1955
will be remembered not as stone and brick and mortar;
instead,
forming the image of East in the mind of the student will be the memories of the people who made the year pleasurable or interesting or entertaining through which ran the feeling of purposefulness and importance which accompanies learning at any school.

An image of a face
a quick grin
the twinkle of an eye will be impressed forever upon the mind of the student.

A friend, perhaps — his smile warm and sincere An athlete — determination etched upon his face A student — his face deep in thought A teacher — puzzling over test results all of these and more form the image of East.

These moments, which hold for us the most typical of their faces' expressions and forms, are those which the 1955 Angelus has tried to capture.

A moment from eternity
A split-second from life
A part of East high school small enough to be closely observed and studied.

Although it is but a minute portion of East, it is still quite real and representative of the spirit and feeling which is a distinct quality of East . . .
and East, alone.

This is the 1955 Angelus.

ACTIVITIES:

They range from such interesting and educational experiences such as Stagecrew (planning the all-school show by the glow of a single bare light bulb which watches over the backstage activities of the busy crew) to publications (also interesting and educational)

Student government, too.

And contests.

And awards.

And red and white day — never to be forgotten.

Working together is the spirit of activity.

Faces — bent to a task.

Smiles of satisfaction on

The active faces of youth.

TOM INMAN—Head Boy

Tom's active interest in student government has made it possible for him to participate in many activities outside of class. The most outstanding, though, was his trip to Washington, D. C. to attend Boys' Nation.

After seeing the national government in action and because of his natural interest in people, Tom has definitely decided to enter the field of human relations in some way after he graduates from Colorado university.

DIANE GORSUCH — Head Girl

The office of Head girl has been the climax of a long list of school activities for Diane. Next year she would like to attend college in California where she plans to major in fields leading into social work.

Diane has done volunteer social work this year at Aurora Community center working with children from six to eight years old and eventually would like to work with teenagers in correctional institutions.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS ARE IMPORTANT to every Student council member. The main council divides into smaller groups to discuss specific issues. Tom Inman, head boy, and Diane Gorsuch, head girl, act as chairmen in the council meetings.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council is the main body of student government at East. It is made up of five sophomores, seven juniors and fourteen seniors who meet first hour every day to discuss student problems and activities.

Junior and senior council members are elected in the spring for the following year in class elections. Sophomore members are elected in October after they have entered East.

The council sponsors many activities such as the Community Chest drive, Sweetheart dance, Symphony Serenade, Red and White day and the cleanup campaign. This year they produced the twentieth anniversary assembly instead of the usual Howdy day.

MANUAL'S HEAD BOY speaks to attentive council members. Representatives from Manual attend the East council meeting to discuss the attitudes of both student bodies at basketball games.

A SUGGESTION IS OFFERED by Dan Shwayder as Norm Fox and Val Freshman concentrate on the problem. Council members act as a link between students and faculty.

DELEGATE ASSEMBLY

Delegate assembly members were elected in first hour classes and met before school with Mrs. Violette McCarthy, sponsor. Because the assembly this year was so large, members during second semester met in three groups by floors.

Two sophomores, two juniors and two seniors are elected each semester to serve on the Principal's Advisory council. The council did not meet the first semester because there were no outstanding problems requiring their attention.

Assembly members aided with the publicity and sale of the Angelus, tickets for the All-School show and athletic tickets. They exchanged red feathers for contributions to the Community Chest drive and worked with Student council in sponsoring the cleanup campaign and Red and White day.

ANGELUS CAMERAS are inspected by Rick Manson, head photographer, Steve Wilson and Len Sager, photographers. This year, Angelus and Spotlight photography was combined, and the staff was provided with a new, fully equipped dark room.

SPONSOR, MR. WILLIAM KOERBER has high degree of participation of the Angelus for the past three years. For many years, the Angelus has been at the American award and a few lettered Methodist certificates.

ASSISTANT EDITORS Pat Whitmore and Joyce Mason discuss a Jimmy's list of future images. Jimmy's list was in check a copy that was used in the book. They set section headlines and took charge of the Jimmy's.

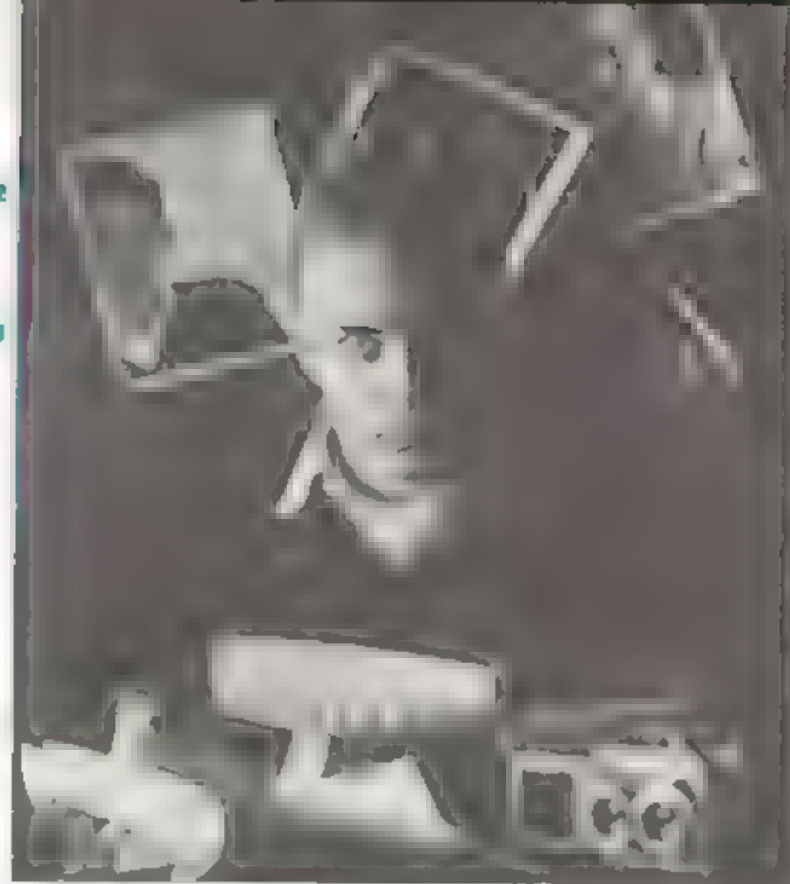

DOING INDIVIDUAL WORK in the Angelus office are Sam McCoy, Marlene Farris, Marie Reck, Lyne H. and Vannie Holmes, Carol Winner and Tim M. The book is divided into sections, each section having an editor and one or two assistant editors who are responsible for everything included in that section.

EDITOR NANCY ADAMS is a writer, editor, and publisher. Her work with the Spotlight Society will be featured in Good Housekeeping magazine.

REPORTER, RANDY ROBINSON holds discuss on with sports ed to s B: Cook and B: Robinson while rep: ers Bib Cox and Marvin Romer write copy. Each member of staff has a news beat of seven teachers who give him current information on activities.

PORTRAYING AN IMPORTANT SCENE in the senior class play are Marilyn Van Derbur, Wayne Williams, Ken Gottesfeld, Judy Hamby, Gwen Gregory and Dan Howe. Many students tried out for the play, but only a few could be used in this particular play.

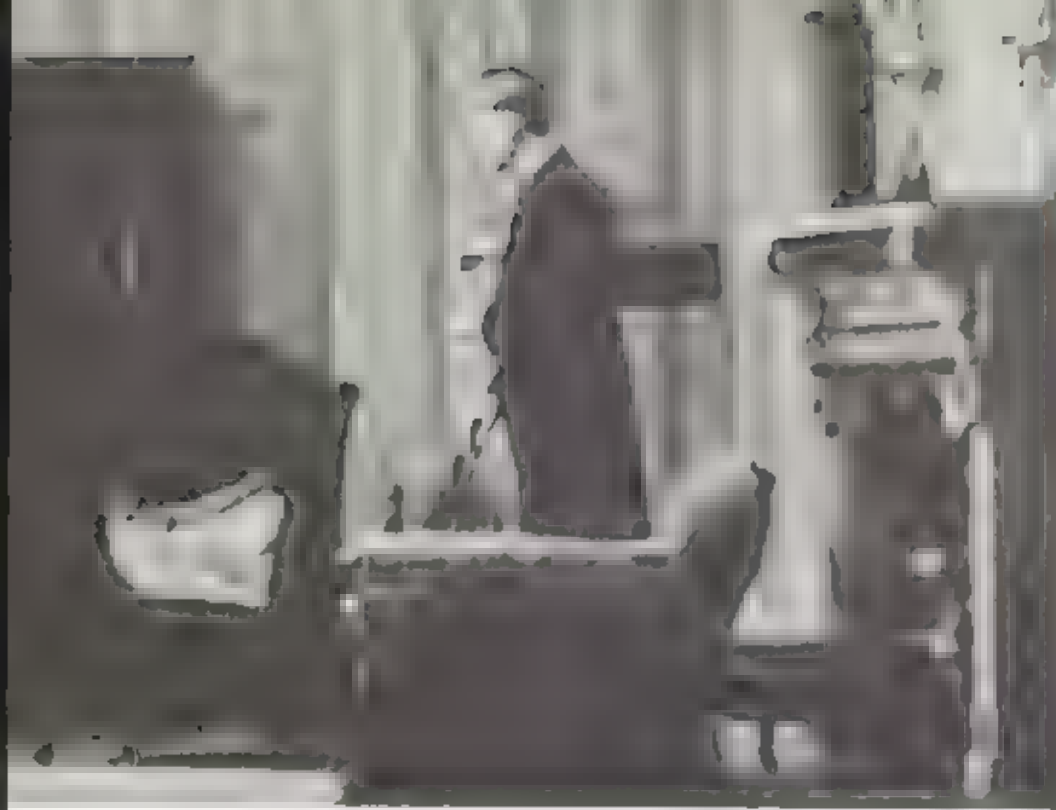

WAYNE WILLIAMS is expounding how he plans to support Dan Howe's daughter after the couple are married. Later the audience decided that Wayne was not a true lover.

The Winslow Boy" was presented as the senior class play this year and was directed by Mrs. Genevieve Kreiner. Having major parts in the play were Dan Howe, Don Amen, Bob Denious, Gwen Gregory and Marilyn Van Derbur. Playing minor but impressive roles were Ken Gottesfeld, Wayne Williams, Judy Hamby, Sandra Redmond, Harry Bitman, Stu Coffee and Dave Gorsuch, who was heard offstage as a paper boy. Gwen Parker and Richard Shore handled the arrangements.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

Each year the students of East present a colorful Christmas pageant under the direction of Mrs. Genevieve Kreiner. The telling of the yuletide story this year was done by the heavenly angels: Gwen Gregory, Doris Vinyard, Bev Allen, and Mary Ann Baird. Harry Bitman narrated his story as a Roman soldier during the first Christmas. The angel, Gabriel, was played by Sam Crocker. Shepherds were Bruce Wagner, Don Amen, Jim Bradford, and Stu Coffee. Something interesting was added to the pageant this year in the form of a dance by the Angel of Joy, Bev Mosko. The off-stage voice was Bert Brooks.

HARRY BITMAN AND RICHARD SHORE, who both had important roles in the pageant, are discussing the strange behavior of the Wise men from the east.

THE BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS STORY is brought to life by Gail Mosko, Jim Wade, Barbara Carter, John Lomb, Harry Bitman, Marilyn VanDerbur, Leonard Weis, Sue Cummings, Pat Moss, and Gerald Kauvar.

WORKING WITH THE MICROPHONES are John Giltland, Larry Beery, Mr. Arthur Bragg, Howard Hanna and Don Cartwright. This year the stage received four new mikes and a complete new sound system that has twice the capacity of the old one.

SCRUBBING A WATER BASE PAINT all lights used in stage settings are Richard Barr, Don Cartwright, Bob Tengler, Mr. Arthur Bragg and Melvin Brown. A well-equipped shop and a new lighting system on the stage were installed this year for use of the stage crew. Mr. Bragg has classes would that in sixth periods instruct crew members in the use of the equipment.

STAGE CREW

THE LIGHT PANEL, newly installed this year, is manned by Lenard Worthington and Dick Milton, stage secretary. The crew operates lighting for all the stage productions in East's auditorium. This year they put on the lights on the tower for Christmas decoration. Richard Phillips, stage captain, Sam Tichy, Bernie Hynes and Don Leonard are also members of the Stage crew.

The boys on the stage crew serve as the men behind the scenes of our many assemblies and special programs. They handle the lighting, building of scenery and all the mechanics of a stage production.

The stage crew is headed by Mr. Arthur Bragg who gives the members special training for their various jobs. The crew is divided into small groups according to the work they do.

The members of the stage crew also spend many hours outside of school assisting with the decorations for dances and any other projects that require their help.

PUTTING UP SCENERY for the Al School show are Ted Hendricks, Jim Gregory, Mr. Arthur Bragg, Carl Tammant, Bernie Cale, Richard Merkle and Larry Asarch. The Drama club play and the Christmas pageant were the Stage crew's main projects during the first semester. Members not included in the pictures are Ronald Foreman, Dick Denman, Warren Fairfield, Jim Whitaker, Bernie Tichy, Wayne Miller and Paul Keys.

THE PROPOSAL is a theme for the Seraph symposium. Lynne Weinstein Seraph from the city school since that is entirely normal was held this year in the Linn room of the Sherry Sassy. The theme was secrets of the Sea and the room was changed for the day to day.

DANCES

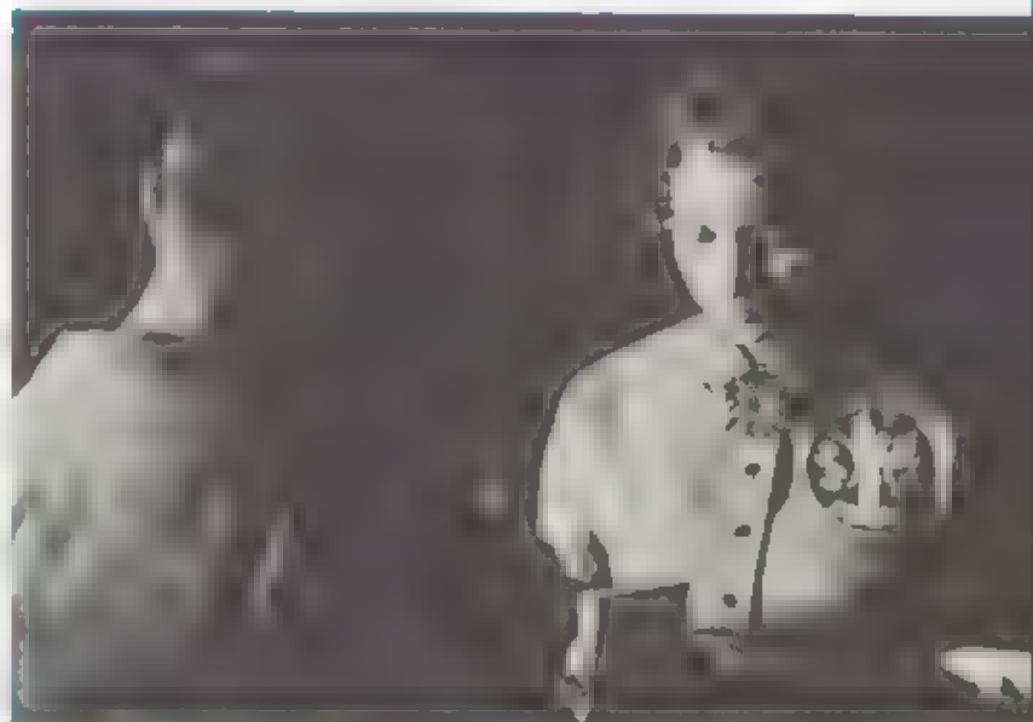

Dances are an important part of student social life at East, and not to be forgotten are the planning and preparation that precede the few hours of entertainment. Committees are formed weeks before the date of the dance to insure its complete success.

When bids are purchased at the box office in the front hall, the bid and master check list are signed. Because they are nontransferable, the name and number on each bid are checked against the list at the entrance of the dance.

On their arrival at East boys check their coats and wait in the hall while their dates place their wraps in the girls' clock-room and spend a last minute at the mirror.

The dances, from nine to twelve, are usually followed by a stop at one of the popular restaurants.

METZA YAKSHA sells a bid for "Night of Knights," the Seraph swing. The Seraph Sisters sponsor the first dance of the year soon after school opens in the fall.

DANCERS LOOK ON as Shirley Shaver and her date, Sgt. Henry, at a terbug to music played by the Denver Symphony orchestra. Symphony serenade is held at the D. U. Student Center to all Denver high schools.

CHECKING INTO the Homecoming dance are Sue Van der Laan and Jim Brubaker. The figure of a football player kicking a golden football is in the middle of the dance floor. Homecoming dance is sponsored by the Angelus and Spotlight staffs. The ball was a red and white Mr. Touchdown U.S.A.

A BASKETBALL BASKET is converted into the wall torch of a medieval castle by Ann Newland. Candles, flame, fused from the torches and lighted the brown stones that covered the rock boards.

LARRY TEMMER plays a Sweetheart at the lock off on from John Edgar. Sweetheart dance is sponsored by Student council and is held on the weekend nearest St. Valentine's day.

DANCES

THE BIG MOMENT arrives for Sweetheart couple, Fran Glather and Jim Ogilvie. The other Sweetheart candidates honored the King and Queen with bows and curtsies after they were crowned JUNIOR PROM GUESTS. Mr. Edwin A. Toothaker, Mr. Milton L. Erickson and Mr. Murray C. McComas, portray the students' concept of a typical chaperon. "Frosted Fantasy" was the theme of the dance, and Jeri Fox was crowned queen on a white throne at the side of the gym.

MARILYN ULRICH and her date concentrate on a new step at "Night of Knights" — the Seraph swing. The gym, lined with painted shields, was entered by crossing a drawbridge. Ray Kemp and his orchestra lent a more modern mood to the evening.

REFRESHMENTS present few problems to Bev Rosenberg and Dick Haden at the sophomore party. The movie, "Two Tickets to Broadway," began the evening and was followed by dancing and refreshments in the front hall. The hall was decorated with the New York skyline and signs of famous New York streets.

THE SENIOR DANCE, "Moods in Jade," created an evening of oriental atmosphere. The dance which followed a western theme in the past was changed to a date dress affair this year.

THE BASS PLAYER in Rog Altman's band steals the show at Sweetheart dance. Couples often pass the time during band intermissions by sitting in groups on the dance floor talking.

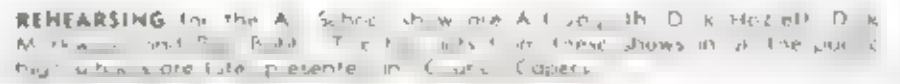

THE BAND HAS GONE, the dance floor is littered with beer, a feeling of desertion pervades the gym, but Charlie Mortensen and Duane Pettyjohn linger unwilling to end a wonderful evening.

ASSEMBLIES

Assemblies at East are given for many different purposes, and because of this, they are popular with all students and teachers. This year such varying and interesting assemblies as a ski movie, a cowboy singer, a pipe band and a joking piano player were presented. The great variety of the assemblies was outstanding.

Many organizations and clubs were successful in finding original assemblies to educate and entertain the audiences. Through the All School show and other talent programs a great many Angels were able to prove their abilities by performing. In this way the assemblies represented the students as a whole.

MEMBERS OF THE D CLUB are giving an imitation of the White Jackets and fans of a football game as seen by the football players. Different clubs enjoyed the fun of acting and of doing school service when they held pep assemblies.

HELPING TO STIR UP ENTHUSIASM at one of the pep rallies is Sue Cummings, cheerleader. All the cheerleaders worked to promote team spirit.

PEP ASSEMBLIES

Under the direction of the pep committee, which was headed by Elaine McKenzie, the service clubs of East provided pep assemblies for the student body to enjoy. The assemblies encouraged the support of the athletic teams by the Angels. Enthusiastic faces and clapping hands watched and cheered as members of the clubs produced skits and acts to attract attention to East's sporting events. As a result of the assemblies given by interested organizations, more students attended the games.

STUDENTS, who seem full of pep, are shown here watching an assembly. Attendance at all the pep sessions was encouraging to the athletes.

JUST BEFORE THE STATE BASKETBALL FINALS Coach Gregg Browning sang with his usual gusto at an assembly. With him, of course, was "sidekick," Coach Bill Weimar.

WINNER of the Woodbury Oratory contest, Harry Bitman, is shown being congratulated by his mother. Harry was also in the Christmas pageant and Senior class play.

JANICE STALCUP, who defeated six other finalists in the Wolcott sight-reading contest, is excitedly shaking the hand of Elain Crowley. The prize is a book order.

VICTORIOUS HARRY BITMAN is discussing the Woodbury contests with two other contestants, Ken Gottsfeld and Bert Brook. This year's contest was the eighty-second Woodbury event.

SPEECH CONTEST

The annual Woodbury oratorical contest was won this year by Harry Bitman with his recitation, "In Defense of His Son," by Victor Hugo. The other contestants were Vaughn Aandahl, Bert Brook, Ken Gottsfeld, Don Howe, Morris Lorber, Richard Shore and Gary Spitzer. The prize was a gold medal.

Kathy Murphy and Richard Shore were the winners of the Shafroth extemporaneous speaking contest which was held at North high school. Richard's subject was "Is It Safe to Rearm West Germany?" Kathy talked on "Has the Indo-China Problem Really Been Solved?"

Victorious in the Wolcott Medal contest was Janice Stalcup, senior. The six other finalists were: Joyce Cohn, Joan Greinetz, Hillary Bloch, Roselle Cramer, Susan Geist and Margret Purdy.

RICHARD SHORE AND KATHY MURPHY had to study current events with great care in preparation for the Shafroth extemporaneous reading contest in which both Richard and Kathy won the top awards.

COMPARING COSTUMES are winners Tom Keeter, Cully Van Nona and John Lamb. In the background is the statue of Bomb, from the senior float.

THE MAD MATTER is portrayed by Chris Reynolds in the senior skit. The class of '55 took the top honors of the day by winning first prize in both the skit and float competitions.

PREPARING FOR THE PARADE are members of the Junior High School Trips entry. Only the Dinosaur took first prize honors in the small float division.

THE PARADE, the official opening of Red and White Day, is a time when the town's high class and a number of others were presented by float in the parade. Many of the costumes were lost to present and future floats. The May Queen candidates and their courtiers.

RED AND WHITE DAY

BAMBI, the senior entry, took first prize in the float contest. The lifelike realism of the Disneyland characters captured the hearts of the viewing Angels.

PONDERING AN IDEA for her latest theme assignment is Judy Homby, senior. The creative writing course at East gives students an opportunity to express themselves in many forms of written prose and poetry.

DEAN LARSON ILLUSTRATES his point in speech class. This course helps students gain self confidence for dealing with the public in later life

The study of English at East is divided into two main categories: the composition and the literature courses. In addition, speech, journalism and creative writing are offered

The junior and senior composition courses stress the fundamentals of grammar and writing and the importance of building a vocabulary.

American literature, English literature and Shakespeare give the student a basic knowledge of great literary works and cultivate good reading habits.

Judie Johnson uses a poster to illustrate her point in French class. Oral reports are helpful in language studies.

The foreign language department at East offers instruction through eight semesters of Latin, French and Spanish and through four semesters of German.

The latter three courses present a general study of grammar and vocabulary as well as the customs and conditions of these modern-day countries. The Latin student learns the basic fundamentals of this Roman language and gains a better knowledge and understanding of English.

Movies, slides and oral reports accent the textbook in the study of a foreign language.

THE GERMAN CLASS enjoys a movie. These films help students to learn more about the country from which the language comes.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

MARGINAL ADJUSTMENT is one of the basic fundamentals of typing procedure. Kay Waldner studies her work as she sets the left margin to prepare for further typing.

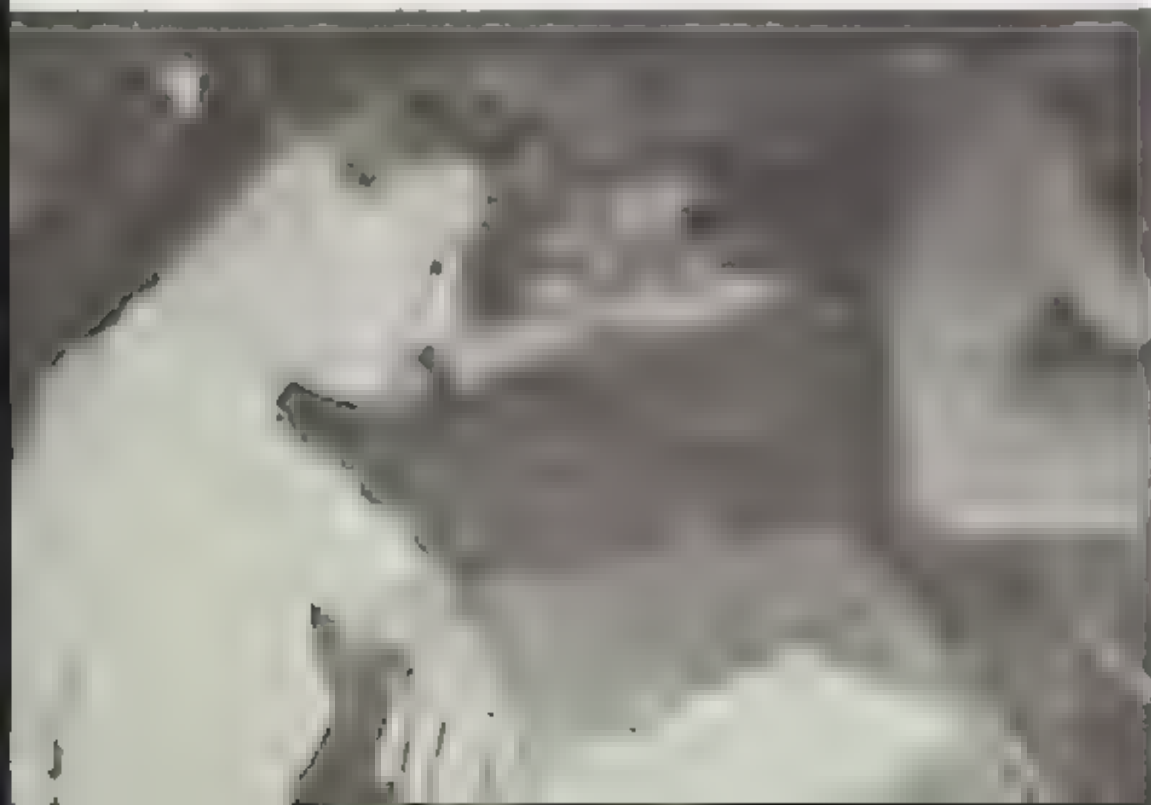

East students rate typing, stenography, business arithmetic and bookkeeping as their favorite business education courses.

Typewritten themes, term papers and letters which are preferred by teachers and employers make typing a profitable course for any pupil.

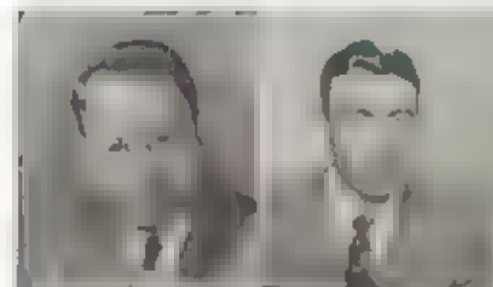

A basic knowledge of shorthand is useful in secretarial work and for taking class notes.

Bookkeeping and business arithmetic are assets in seeking employment.

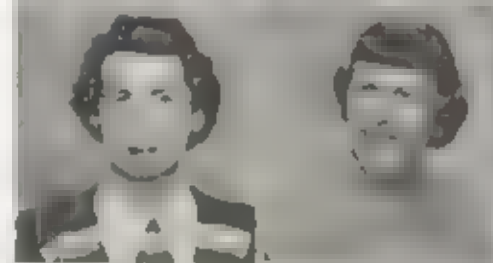

STENO STUDENT, Snooky Mandel, writes her lesson for the day. At the completion of a year's study, the average stenographer writes 60-80 words per minute.

Since one year of mathematics is a graduation requirement, this department at one time or another sees the face of every East student.

The goal of the mathematics courses is to promote clear and logical thinking through reasoning and practical application.

All math classes are open to both boys and girls. There is a course to fit every student whether he aspires to a general arithmetic background or to six semesters culminating in the study of math analysis.

The curriculum of this department includes: general and basic mathematics, four semesters of algebra, plane and solid geometry, trigonometry and math analysis.

A mathematics major at East is extremely beneficial to the pupil interested in becoming an engineer, architect, or teacher.

ATTEMPTING TO FINISH HIS HOMEWORK in class is Ed O'Brien. However, it seems as though he is "stuck" on one of his problems and will be forced to take his book home after all.

THE SLIDE RULE, an instrumental "must" for advanced algebra students, is being put to use by John Hamilton. East's advanced math courses help to prepare the student for college mathematics.

CORRECTING THEIR GEOMETRY PROBLEMS at the blackboard are Barbara Fisher and Warner Logan. This course helps the student to develop a logical pattern of thought.

THE PHOTOMETER, used for light experiments, is being observed by physics students Bob Erickson, Tom Harvey and Carol Binkley. They are "looking for a corpse" in the renowned physics coffin.

ANNETTE JONES tries to make the "physics coffin" work. The "physics coffin" is a large, dark, rectangular object used in physics experiments. The "physics coffin" was also mentioned in the previous article.

Biology, chemistry and physics are the three most popular science courses offered at East high.

Biology is primarily divided into the study of botany and zoology. Students especially enjoy laboratory work with the microscope.

Working with test tubes, bunsen burners and various chemicals in the laboratory help the chemistry student see science in action.

The study of the physical forces of the universe, heat, light and energy, is the primary objective of all East physics students.

These science courses are all taught basically the same way with certain days of each week being reserved for textbook discussions and certain days for laboratory work.

Such courses as astronomy, aeronautics, geology and radio are also offered by East's science department.

Students interested in advanced science courses in college find a science major at East valuable.

CAGE BALL, a favorite game in the girls' gym, is played by Shirley Williams, Darla Maybe, Helen Wilcox and Sue Woods. This quartet followed this year's fad by ripping the elastic and hem stitching from their gym suits.

East's physical education department offers daily relaxation and exercise for both boys and girls.

In the fall and spring when classes can be held out-of-doors, students enjoy football, baseball and speedball. Favorite indoor sports for the girls are badminton, volleyball and basketball. The latter two are indoor favorites of the boys.

These physical education classes stimulate recreational skills and good sportsmanship.

EXECUTING A FRONT DRAW is Theron Tolbert in boys' gym class. Physical education is the favorite course of many East high boys.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

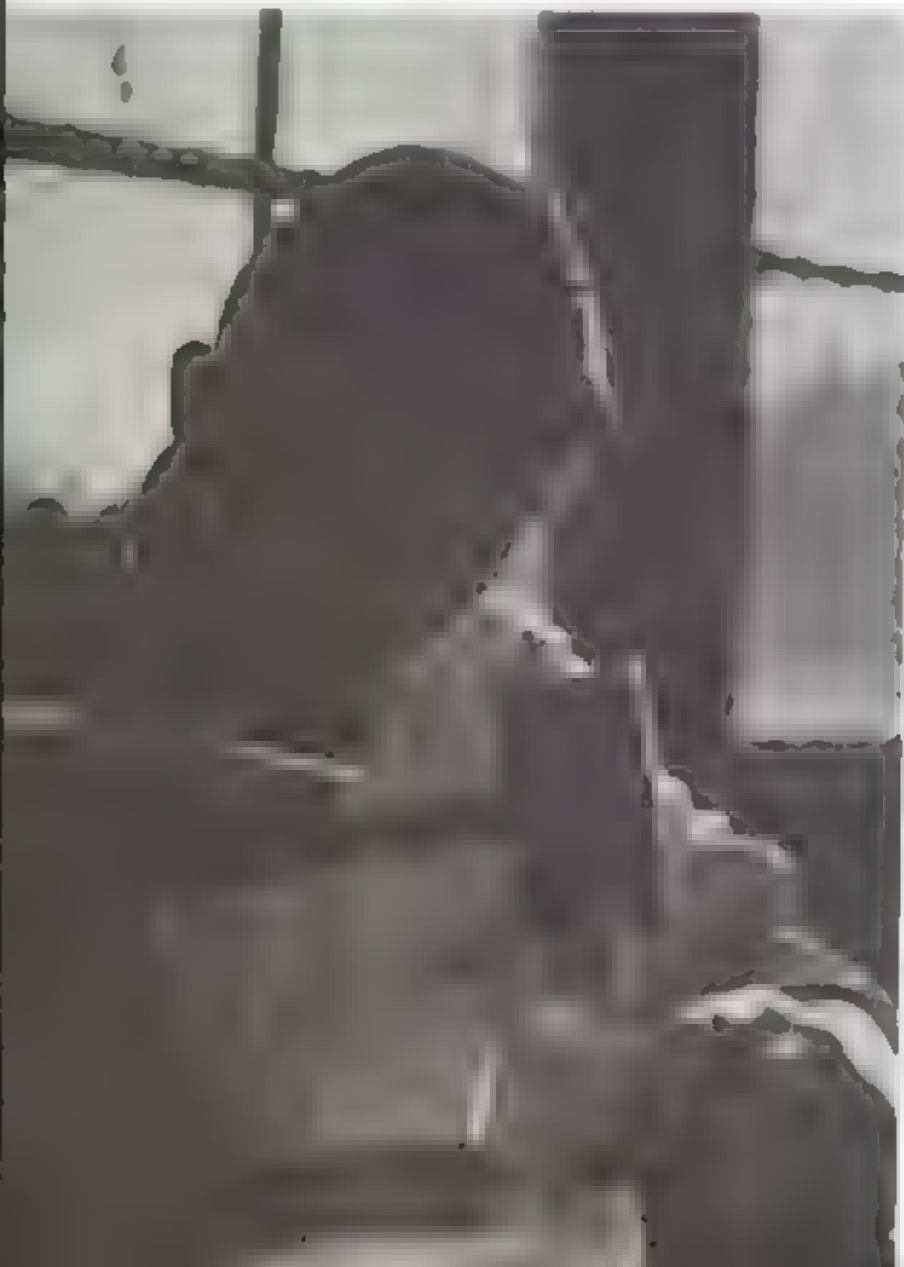

ELAINE MCKENZIE is working industriously on some house plans. Mechanical drawing provides much enjoyment for everyone who takes the course.

Mechanical drawing is East's most popular industrial arts course. Boys who aspire to careers as engineers, architects and contractors find several semesters of this study invaluable.

The metal, crafts and woodworking classes enjoy real accomplishments as they produce beautiful and useful objects. Among these are billfolds, bowls, tables, stools and bookends.

These courses are both interesting to the student and helpful in choosing a future vocation.

WORKING WITH LEATHER in the handicraft class helps Jack Zabriski show his creative ability. Attractive products made by these students have made beautiful displays this year.

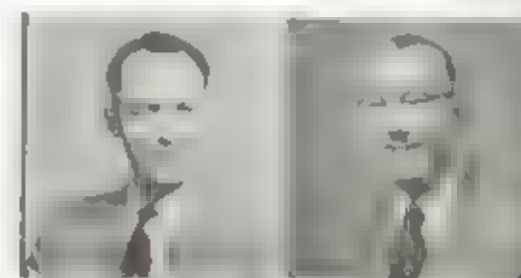

AN UNUSUAL COURSE at East is a metal class for girls. Not only is it fun, but useful for beautiful rings, earrings and bracelets are made that can be worn for a lifetime.

CURRENT AFFAIRS, a course just introduced at East, is being studied around the globe. The American Observer, a weekly newspaper, is the text

The social science department at East offers students a variety of interesting courses from guidance to modern European history

All East pupils view the development of the United States in three semesters of American history. In these studies the textbook is accented by movies and panel discussions

Junior and senior students enjoy the study of psychology, sociology and boys' and girls' social problems. They find the knowledge gained in these studies very useful in modern-day living

Preparation for college is gained in ancient and medieval history through writing term papers and taking essay tests

JACKIE MARTIN inspects her work of art suspiciously. Many young people take drawing and painting so that they can express their feelings and emotions on paper.

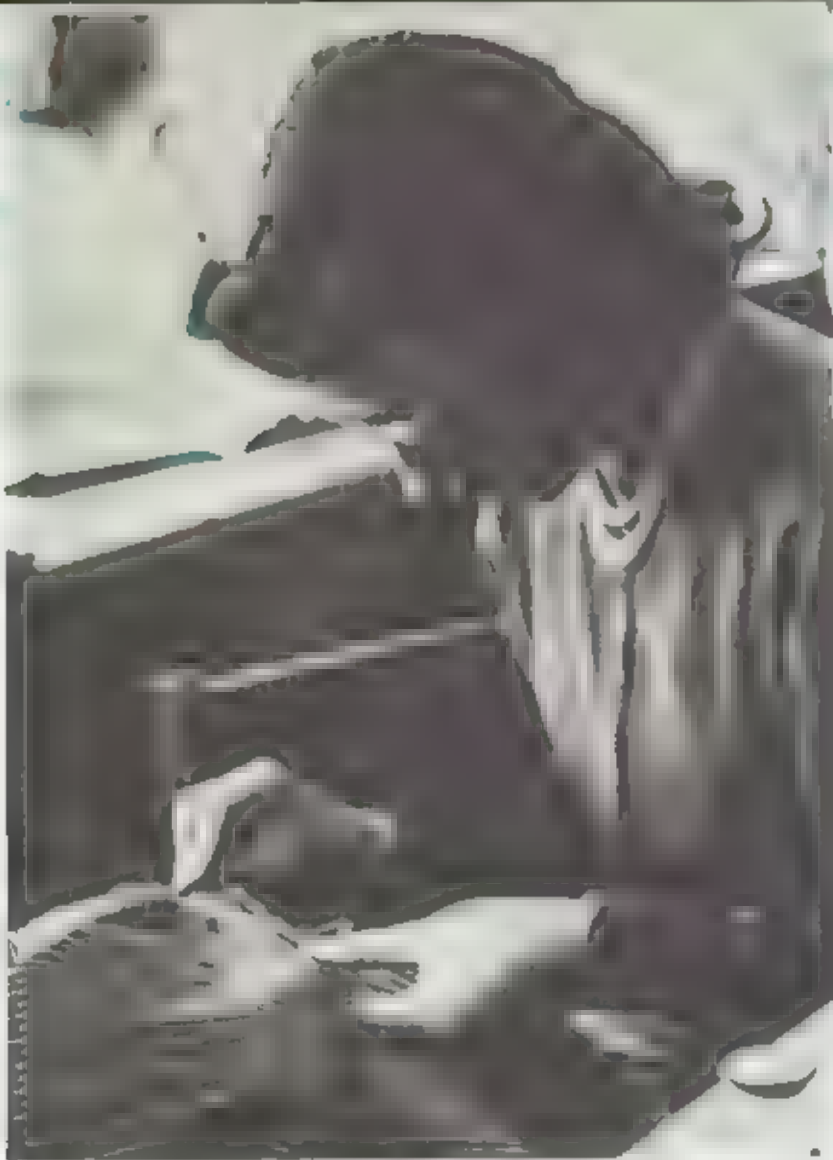

The art classes at East are designed to bring out the expressive ideas of young artists. Clay modeling, drawing and painting and commercial art all allow the student to bring out his or her creative ability.

It is not essential to have artistic ability to be a member of an East art class. Young people enroll to gain the benefits of showing their feelings with their hands. The basis of several vocations are found in the content of this course.

ARDETH GAER adds the finishing touches to her painting. The art classes at East cover the basic ideas of art and give a fine background for more extensive study later on.

HOME ECONOMICS

MARYIRENE OTTERMAN is laboring on the hem of her attractive new outfit. Perfection is an imperative quality in the sewing classes for good looking clothes.

The Home Economics department of East offers courses for the development of the art of homemaking. Cooking classes teach the student to prepare the simplest to the most difficult of foods.

In sewing classes a girl begins with an idea for a garment, this idea is developed into a definite plan and results in the construction of a completed outfit.

AYLA BIROL wears the dress that won her National honors in the Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool Contest. She decorates everything that she makes with ornate trim that she has made herself. Embroidery is her specialty.

TOMORROW'S HOMEMAKERS have a good time working with and learning about the ingredients that combine to make delicious and tantalizing dishes.

East high's a cappella choir, under the skillful direction of Miss Fareeda Moorhead, consists of about 60 young people. Their beautiful voices are heard at Christmas time every year when the choir, dressed in red and white robes, enter the assembly carrying battery candles. They accompany the cast of the Christmas pageant by singing the traditional Christmas carols. The choir performs for numerous community groups which enjoy its selections.

The Girls' Glee club this year has been very active both in school and in outside activities.

School assemblies have been treated to a variety of programs which included popular melodies, folk songs and Negro spirituals.

The Glee club's outside activities included presentation of programs at banquets, various church programs and assemblies at other high schools and junior highs.

The club is unusually well-balanced and has made noticeable progress under the capable leadership of Mrs. Violette McCarthy, director.

MR. ROLAND S. ROBERTS

Blaring trumpets, sliding trombones and beating drums. Hail to East's bands and orchestra at football games, parades and concerts. And all praise to the leader, Mr. Roland Roberts, who inspires them to spend hours in practice and preparation, thus producing excellent performances and lending spirit to the activities of East's Angels.

Each band student participates in several musical activities during a semester. In the fall of this year, the band planned an outstanding football game half-time performance, but everyone was disappointed when it was rained out. A group of band recordings was chosen among top records in the nation by The American School Band Directors' association. This year the Denver Public schools spent about five thousand dollars outfitting the band in beautiful new uniforms.

The orchestra entertains the school many times a year with excellent assembly programs. There is keen competition among members in each section vying for right of first chair. City-wide concerts are another of the activities in which they participate.

IN DEALING WITH THE OFFICE, students find co-operative people to help them. Miss Genevieve Francis seems to be giving out another one of the hundreds of excuse slips that she spends her time writing each day. Mike Roberts waits to receive one.

The business functions of East are among the most important aspects of running the school. The office staff, consisting of secretaries, clerks, and a treasurer and assistant, keep the records in fine order.

One of their biggest jobs during the year is preparing a file of each student at East, and keeping it, so that future employers of persons needing a record of any East graduate may obtain it.

Worthy of mention are the cafeteria workers and the custodians, the men and women who work behind the scenes. The excellent cooks in the lunchroom plan and prepare the fine, well-balanced meals that the students eat every day. The custodians keep East high's building and grounds in a clean, well-kept condition.

COACHES

Teacher . . . trainer . . . strategist, a coach is all of these. He is the person who moulds the individual athletes into a single unit . . . a team. We of East high are fortunate in having one of the finest high school coaching staffs in the country. These men are a major factor in East's perennial athletic supremacy. It is to them that we, the youth of today, pay tribute as we honor them for a year's work well done

CHEERLEADERS

Present at all important sports events, the cheerleaders have helped to keep our spirit high, win or lose.

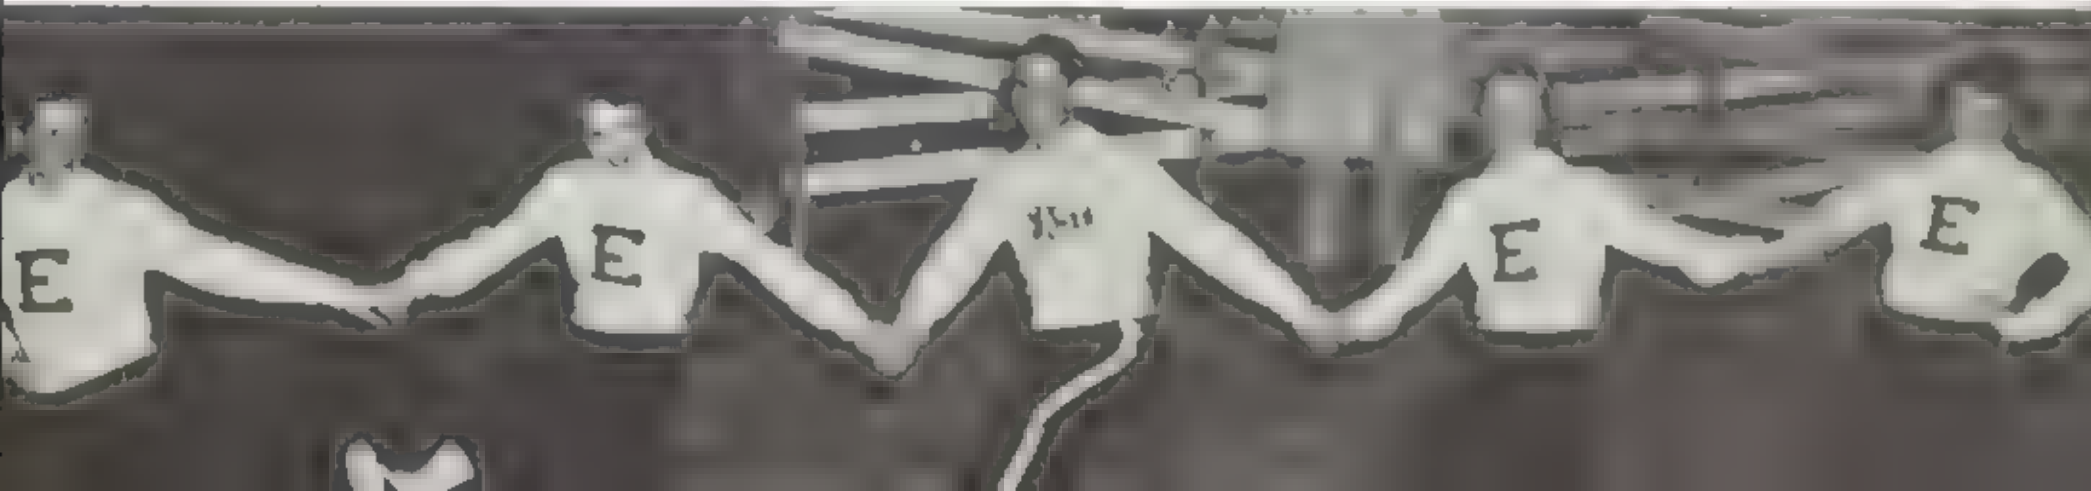

The only games that most of the cheerleaders have seen were those reflected in the faces of the fans.

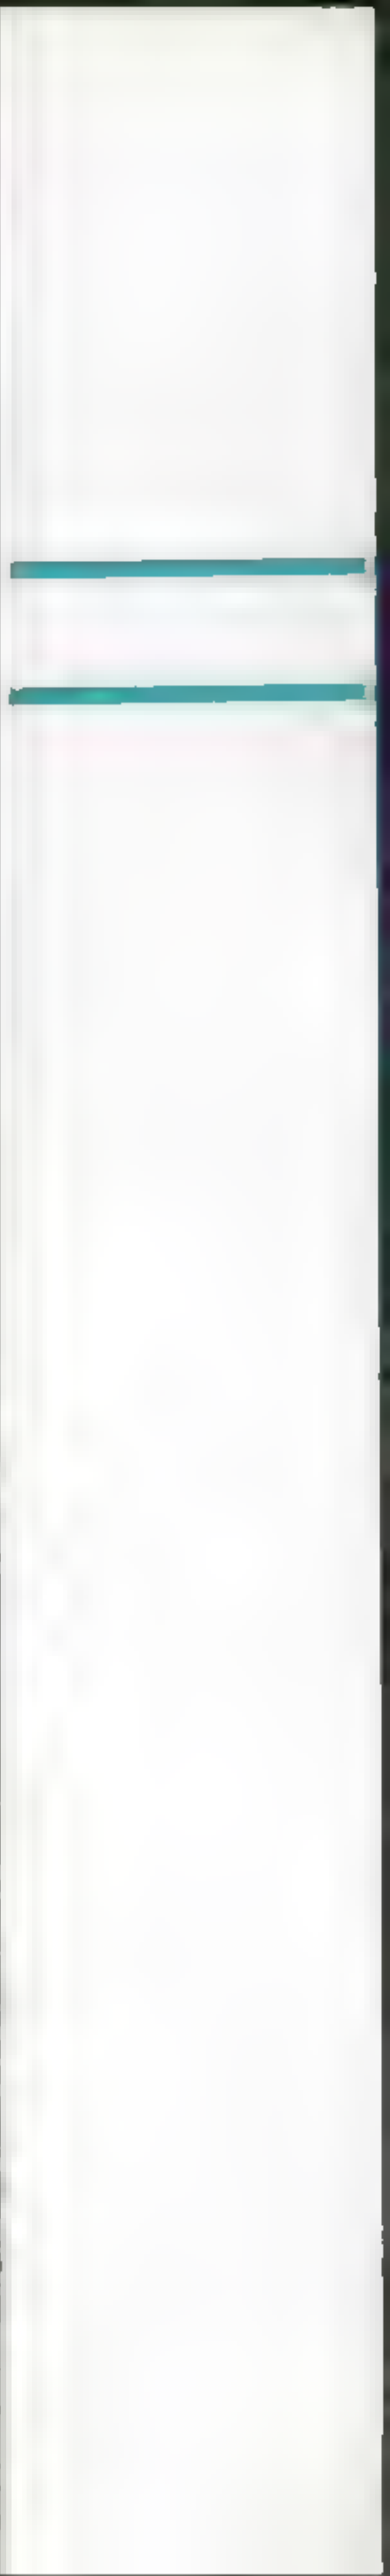

This year's cheerleaders were: Bob Jacobs, head cheerleader, Marilyn Uhrich, Sue Cummings, Carol Cornwell and Laura Kornemann. Alternates were: Joyce Cohn and Carol Phillips.

THE SPIRIT of East is radiated from the face of Sue Cummings. She will not miss a cheering assignment all year.

FOOTBALL

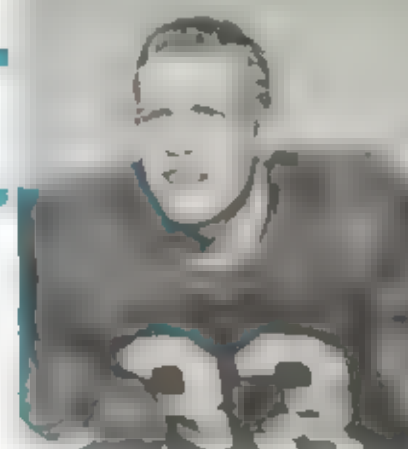

The East High Angels for the first time in six years failed to win the city football championship. Their only pre-season game was against Pueblo Central, the Wildcats won 27-23 in a wild scoring contest. The following week East put its 4-1 league game winning streak on the line against South and was defeated by an under-rated and inspired Rebel eleven 14-13. This was one of the big disappointments of the season, but the Big Red bounced back the next week to romp over Manual 48-7. West fell victim the following week as the Angels trounced the Cowboys 34-0. In the last game of the first round East met the defense minded Vikings of North and although outplaying the Northerners was held to a scoreless tie.

The first game of the second round was the Angels' homecoming and East compensated for the first round defeat by turning on the power and rolling over the Rebels 42-18. Manual was defeated again 28-7, and West was downed 21-7 to bring East into the big game against North.

The Angels needed a victory to clinch their sixth straight league crown. The big break of the game, which was played on a very cold and muddy Saturday afternoon, came in the opening minutes of the first half. East was forced to punt on fourth down. North's Davey Snyder gathered in the ball and raced down the far sidelines to score the first of the Vikings' three touchdowns. This seemed to take all of the steam out of the Angels' attack, and North went on to win 20-0.

Roy Pritts, fullback, and Doug Carr, tailback, who were leaders in both the individual scoring and ground gaining departments, Keith Mollohan, who called the signals and played blocking back, Bill Heidbrink, who at left end gave the fans many thrills with his spectacular catches, tacklers Steve Musman, George Linger, Bob Erickson, guards Don Shwyder, Bob Levy, Morris Lorber and center Jim VanderMiller were outstanding competitors for the Angels this year. Carr, Levy, Heidbrink, Erickson and VanderMiller were all-city choices, and Erickson was an all-state selection.

BEING TACKLED in the first game against North, Doug Carr's face shows surprise as a North player flies through the air to pull him down. East's backfield rushed for a total of 128 yards in the game, but North held the Angels to a scoreless tie.

HUSTLING OFF THE FIELD after a time out is Stuart Coffee. Stuart was one of the two East high football managers.

LOOKING WORRIED during a tense moment in the last North game is Dick Doty. Dick was the second of the team's managers.

TRIPPED UP in the second game against Manual, Mike Roberts, East's wingback, is headed for a fall. Mike did most of the passing for the Angels this year and ranked near the top of the city standings in this department.

ED TOOTHAKER, who led the league in punting with a 36.8-yard average, sits dejectedly on the bench after being injured in the homecoming game against South.

GUS GLASSCOCK comes out of the crucial North game. Gus was East's extra point specialist and booted 24 out of 27 one-pointers for the Angels this year.

GOLF

The East high golfers compiled a 13 won and 3 lost record to take first place in the annual Colorado High School Round Robin tournament. They were followed by West, South, North and Manual in that order. This year's team, although not having any individual stars, was exceptionally well-balanced. This was demonstrated in the pre-season Medalist tournament which the Angels won without having any of their linksters in the top three places. The players who made this year's all-city team were: Butch Youngman, Chris Reynolds, Bill Cook, Bill Covington, Peter Demus and Sandy Zisman.

A BROKEN CLUB is the result of this shot by Bill Cook. The ball was situated in the sand trap in such a way that as Bill followed through the follow up impact on the club's head against the front of the trap broke the shaft in half.

BODY ENGLISH helps Chris Reynolds sink a short put. Chris, a two-year letterman, was one of the top linksters for the Angels this year.

East won the city tennis championship for the ninth year in a row. The team won 44 of 48 matches led by all-city netmen: Jack Klapper, Tag Grossman, Gary Spitzer and John Whistler. All of the losses were to South who provided the toughest competition throughout the season.

The 11 men who earned their letters in tennis were: Jack Klapper, Tag Grossman, John Whistler, Dave Whistler, Bob Wynne, Bob Wetsell, Dick Hadley, Dave Appleton, Bill Kreutter, Elliot Seff and Gary Spitzer, captain. Six of the lettermen were underclassmen.

South came in five games behind East to take second place. Other teams placing were: North, third; Manual, fourth; and West, fifth.

BASKETBALL

We almost went all the way. Yes, this year's basketball team almost took both the City and State High School Basketball championships. A pre season pick for no higher than third place in the city league, the Angels won six of seven pre season games and then proved the experts wrong by winning the city title with a perfect record of eight victories and no defeats. This made East the favorite in the State tournament. The Angels won their first two games with ease, but were defeated in the finals by a sharpshooting Manual five, 84-73. Defense, which played such an important part in the team's previous victories, was the major factor of the game. Manual scored more points in the first half of this game than in the whole of either of the two league games against the Angels.

In the pre season action, East defeated Englewood 67-48, Longmont 38-32, Brush 67-51, Colorado Springs 54-50 and Pueblo Central 59-55, and lost 47-51 to Boulder. This set the stage for the city play. Manual and North were co favorites for the crown with East as the dark horse. The Angels took their first game from South 55-47. The following week the Big Red team met Manual and after a slow start came from behind in the second half to defeat the Thunderbolts 52-44. West was stampeded 71-48, and the Angels went into the North game seeking their fourth straight victory.

The team was faced with the problem of stopping Carney "Stretch" Crisler, North's 6'7" center, who had only two weeks earlier scored 40 points against West. The contest was tense and closely fought until the final three minutes when the Angels, poised and calm, took the lead as the Vikings literally "threw" the game away. The second round was a duplicate of the first with the Angels trouncing South 62-45, Manual 59-45, West 57-45 and North 55-44.

East was made the favorite in the State tournament and in the first game romped over Colorado Springs 79-63. Golden, using an all court press and zone defense, proved to be troublesome for only a quarter and was defeated 62-51. Meanwhile Manual had won both of their games, thus making the final game a natural. The Thunderbolts, setting a red hot pace, took an early lead and at the half led 40-33. During the last quarter, the Angels narrowed the gap to six points, but Manual managed to stave off the rally and increased their lead to 11 points as the game ended.

The outstanding players on the team included Bob Linnenberger who led the Angels in scoring with a 15.6 average and was named to the first annual all metropolitan team as well as the all city and all-state teams. Chuck Newcomb and Stan Williams who were all city and all-state, and George Lloyd who was all-city.

THE STARTLED FACES of Bob Cannonberger and Garney Craver reflect surprise as the ball bounces off the backboard during the game. Cannonberger moved to be a doubly sweet victory for the Angels. Cannonberger and Craver had perfect 100 percent shooting and 100 percent free throw shooting, but they had knocked the Angels out of the tournament, thus avenging a similar defeat of the Angels in the previous year.

A FAMILIAR SCENE shows Coach B. Cannonberger talking to the team during a time out period. The faces of Cannonberger and the players reveal the tenseness of the situation. The Angels were down by 19 points when Cannonberger's 19 points they came from behind to defeat the Angels.

TWO POINTS Cannonberger and Garney Craver were the only players to score two points. Cannonberger was the only player to score two points. Cannonberger was the only player to score two points.

BOXED-IN between Golden's Gen True and East's Bob Linnenger get Chuck Newcomb fights for possession of the ball in the State tournament. Chuck averaged 5.3 points and did an outstanding job on defense for the Angels this year.

UP AND IN. Leaping high above Golden's defense Stan Williams, junior forward, scores a bucket in the semifinals of the State Basketball tournament. A standout this season, Stan shows great promise for next year.

THE FINAL SCORE of the championship game in the Class Double AA division of the State Basketball tournament is on the scoreboard. Dennis Boone of Manual is at the free throw line with only 8 seconds to go in the ball game. This picture portrays the two biggest reasons why the Angels were defeated in their bid for the State title: Dennis Boone, who scored 30 points for the Thunderbolts, and fouls which hampered East but helped Manual.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL

The junior cagers finished the season with a 9 won and 6 lost record. In the pre-season games the Angels defeated Englewood, Longmont, Boulder, Brush, Colorado Springs and Pueblo Central and were beaten by Fort Collins. The city league proved to be much tougher as the junior Seraphs were downed twice by both South and North, split with Manual and took their two contests from West.

Ed Toothaker, Sandy Altberger and Chuck Downing provided the team with its scoring punch while Bill Lanam and Ronnie Shanks were outstanding for their floor play. Other players rounding out the squad included: Dick Mason, Virgil Speak, Rod Isaacson, Jim Brooks, Kent Mollohan, Gary Benko and Wayne Merritt.

SCORING A BASKET against South is Sandy Altberger. The juniors failed to get enough of these, however, and the Angels defeated East 35-42.

DETERMINATION is shown by the face of Ed Toothaker as he battles for a rebound against West. Ed played center and was a consistent scorer for the junior, this year.

SOPH BASKETBALL

With a four won, four lost average the sophomore basketball team finished the season in third place.

East lost the first game to Manual in a tight 46 to 41 ball game, but later in the season came back to claim a 48 to 25 victory. The team also split with South, losing one game 41 to 37 and winning one 41 to 39. In the games with West the Angels won both by a margin of 17 points.

Throughout the season East lacked good in-shooting and relied strongly on defense. The sophs were unable to win either game with North when matched against a tricky offense and tight defense.

The team this year was well balanced and had no one outstanding player.

A PAINED EXPRESSION Across the face of the young man he was going down was the same one that we all have known, seen in the faces of those who have suffered.

SWIMMING

City and State championships were taken by East in an undefeated swimming season. Coach Serafini's swimmers compiled an average of 61 points per meet while opponents had an average of 21. The team won the city meet for the fourth time in a row by 31 points and defended the state crown by a 28-point margin.

The Mills, McConnell, McMurtrie and Kent combination set two records, one in the 167 yard relay event and one in the state 200 meter relay.

The seven all-city swimmers were: Jim Sheff, Jim VanderMiller, Bart Show, Larry Kent, Chuck McConnell, Sam McMurtrie and Jay Mills, team captain.

All-staters were: Norm Yabe, Jay Mills, Bart Show, Jim Sheff, Chuck McConnell, Sam McMurtrie and Larry Kent.

GASPING FOR AIR Norm Hamilton plugs along in a 150 meter individual medley race at East and has won it in all the city meets and the state meet this year.

GYMNASTICS

East overwhelmed its opponents to take the state gymnastics title for the fourth consecutive year beating the second place team by 33 points.

All state honors went to Norm Harthun, on the flying rings; Lanny Reichert, in tumbling, and John Saterberg, chosen all-around man at the meet.

SKIING

Again, this year, the boys on East's ski team captured the winner's cup in the Denver High School Ski meet. Sue Rhodes and Joanne Stansfield placed in both events to cinch second place in the girls' meet.

The race, held at Arapahoe Basin, was sponsored by the Mile High Ski association.

Jon Lail placed first in the slalom followed by Sammy McMurtrie who took fourth and Bill Bassett who came in fifth. Dwight Johnson, Jon Lail and Sammy McMurtrie also placed in the combined race. Other members of the team are Ken Hackett, Barbara Fisher and Carol Cooper.

TRAINING HIS EYES on the next pole, Jon Lail's face shows the tension that goes with slalom racing. Jon captured first place in the High School Ski meet.

WRESTLING

GOING FOR A HALF NELSON in the match against West's George Linger. George, a two-year letterman, was held in the second position for the Angels this year.

The East high wrestling team finished fifth in the city competition. In the pre-season matches the Angels wrestled Aurora, Englewood, Fort Collins, Boulder and Longmont.

The opening match of the city competition was against South, and the Angels lost to the city champions 22-7. The following week East defeated Manual 35-13 and then was defeated by West 32-14 and North 22-17 in that order.

The high point of the season came when the Angels defeated highly rated and previously undefeated Westminster 22-17.

Bill Dunn took all-city honors for East in the 133-pound division. Paul Striker, Steve Musman and George Linger received runner-up spots in their respective divisions. Dunn, Striker and Musman qualified for the state meet. The team was obviously weakened by the absence of letterman Tom Seawell and Joe Kiesel who were injured early in the season.

BASEBALL

The East baseball team has played eight ball games, winning five and losing three. In pre-season play the Angels defeated Englewood 10-5, Golden 9-5 and Longmont 9-6 and lost to Boulder 7-5.

The team was bolstered by eight returning lettermen and was an on and off ball club. In the first game of city league play, East was defeated by South 4-1. The lone Angel marker was tallied by sophomore first baseman, Ed Pepper, who blasted a tremendous drive over the left fielder's head for a home run. The next game was a completely different story as East's batters had a field day with Manual pitching and romped over the Thunderbolts 11-2. Against West, the Angels came out on the short end of a 7-4 score. The following Saturday they met North and surprised the defending champions 7-5 as George Lloyd hurled brilliantly in relief after replacing John Manning in the second inning. George struck out eight and allowed only five hits the rest of the way. This victory put the Angels in third place behind South and West. If East wins the remainder of its games, they have an outside chance to win their first City crown since 1952.

Handling the pitching chores this year are Ed Toothaker, John Manning and Virgil Speak. Howard Lutz is behind the plate, and Ed Pepper, Norman Yabe, George Lloyd, Rog Kinney, Keith Mollohan, Don Allensworth and Mike Roberts round out the starting nine.

TIRED BUT UNBEATEN, Ross Cooney takes a well-deserved rest after winning the 880 race against South. The Rebels took the meet by edging the Angels 27 to 20.

TRACK

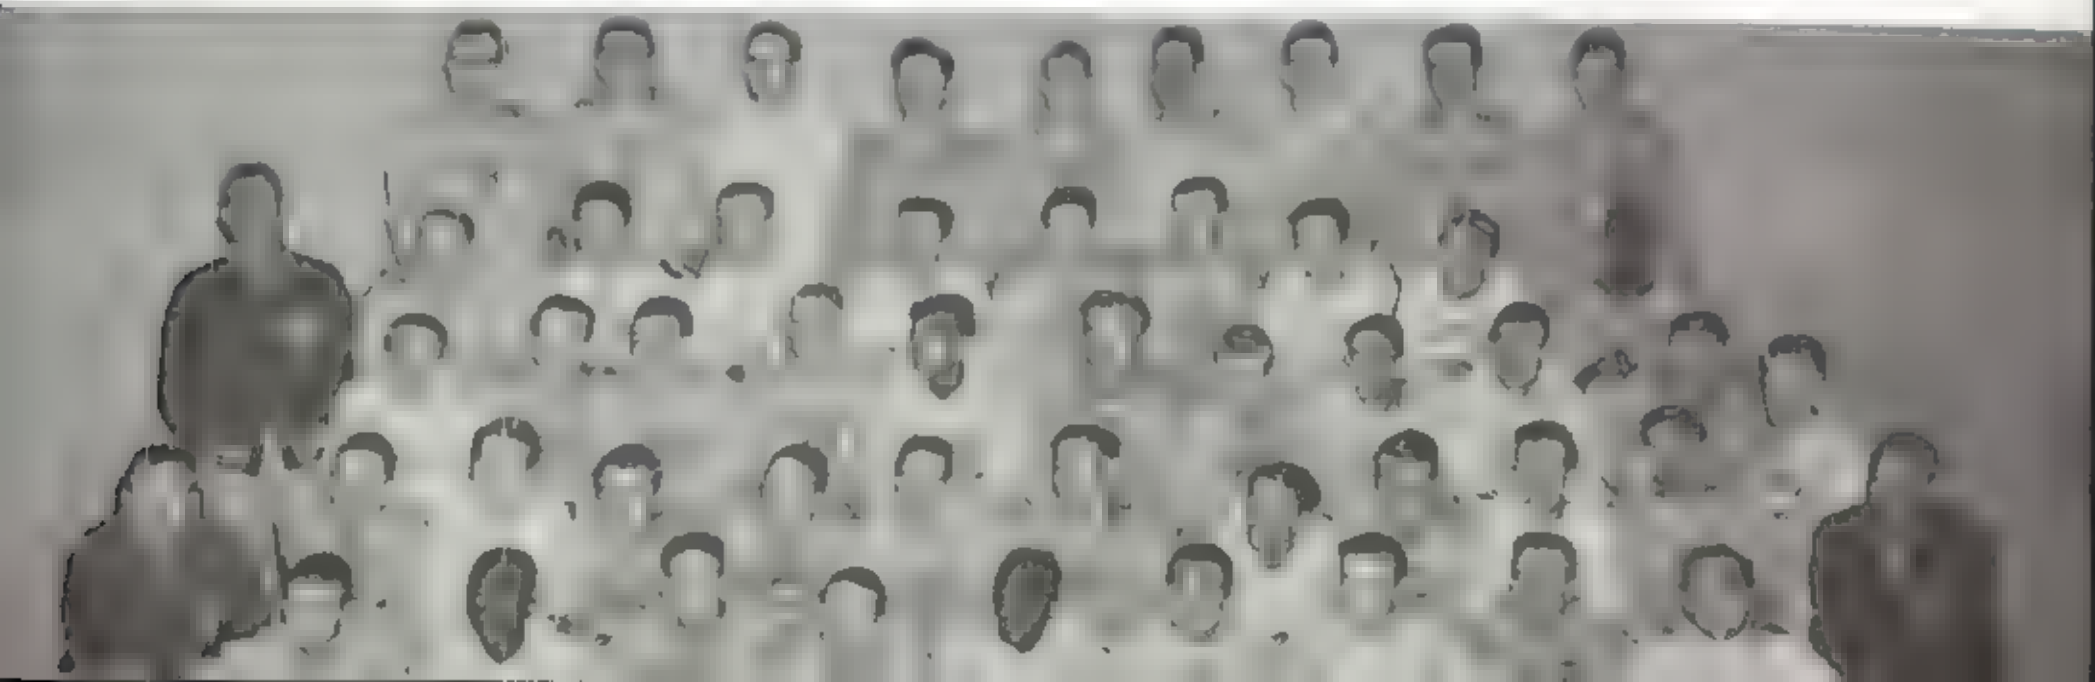

Just getting started in their season, the East track team compiled a record of three wins and two losses. Two pre-season meets were captured when the varsity defeated Englewood and the B squad conquered Aurora.

East placed fifth in the University of Denver relays picking up all points in the field. Chuck Newcomb and Dick Hazlett placed first and second respectively in the discus while Bob Erickson and Don Glasscock placed in other field events.

The first city meet, against South, was called off. In the second city meet Manual took a 66 to 54 win over East despite the efforts of Ross Cooney, Cary Benko, Sam Tichy, Jerry Stover, Doug Carr and Chuck Newcomb who took first place in their events.

East walloped West 89 to 35, paced by first place runners, Tom Inman, Cary Zimmerman, John Nelson, Doug Carr, John Hamilton, Ross Cooney, Al McWilliams, Ken Stenman, Dwight Johnson, Jim Lingle, Sam Tichy and Jerry Stover.

Other trackmen who will probably earn their letters are Stan McWilliams, Mike Newman, Jim McComas, Cary Goelz and Bob Lozinski.

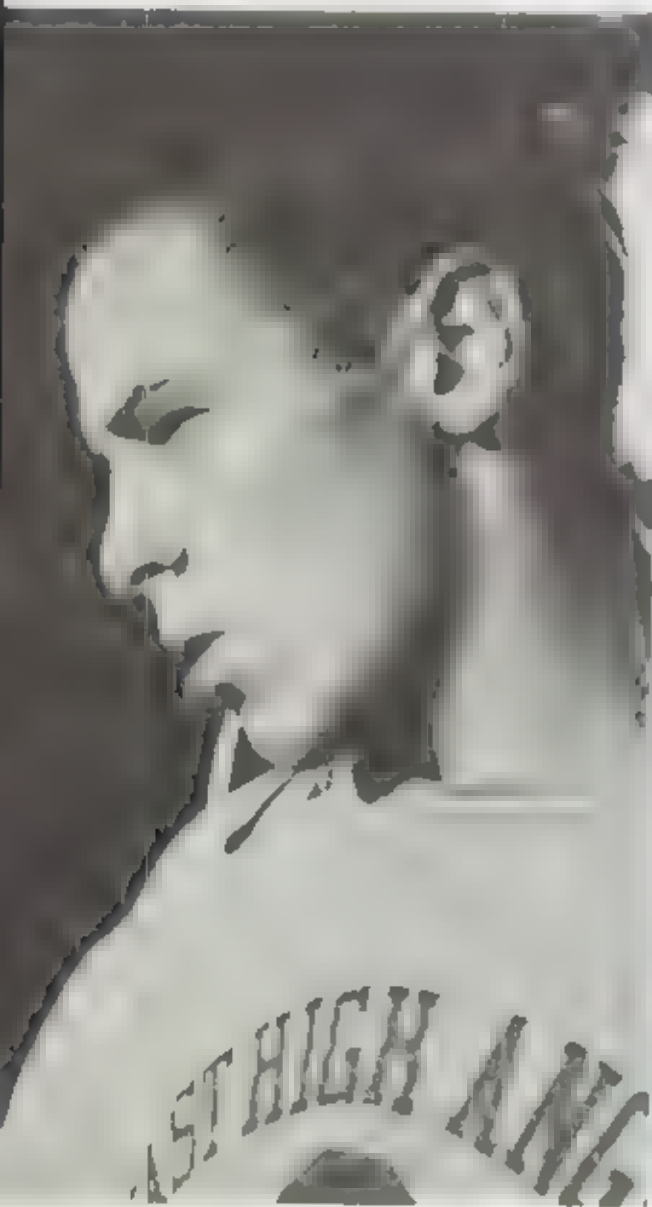

THE START In the race against South, Ross Cooney jumps out into an early lead. Following Ross are two Rebel runners and Fred Moldenhower.

THE FINISH The slowness of the grueling mile and one half race which he has just completed is reflected in the face of Ross Cooney.

East's cross country team ended its season with the all-city and the all-state meets.

The Angels took second in the city meet when Ross Cooney, Fred Moldenhower, Mike Newman and Curtis Menefee came in fifth, seventh, eighth and thirteenth, respectively.

In the all-state meet East took ninth place among the 20 teams that ran. Placing were Mike Newman, Curtis Menefee, Ken Stenman and Harvey Williams.

Of four practice meets, East won three, beating West, Manual and Aurora. Our first team lost to South by a score of 23 to 13, but the second team won 12 to 27. The team with the least number of points is the winner.

"Mr. Touchdown U S A " was the victorious cry of the Homecoming dance, held on October 23. Six girls nominated by the members of the foot ball team vied for the honor of queen. The highlight of the day's festivities was the coronation of Arlene Mandel. Arlene was given a lovely bouquet of red roses and a glittering crown. Don Shwayder, the captain of the foot- ball team, was Arlene's escort

Members of the Angelus and the Spotlight staffs, who sponsored the dance, decorated the boys' gym with gay red, white and blue streamers. Two large goal posts, depicting a football field, stood over the throne and a giant football was placed behind the throne. "Mr. Touchdown U S A." kicked off a golden football from the center of the floor. Angels danced to the music of Jack Stanley and his band

HOMECOMING QUEEN ATTENDANTS

One of the most exciting events of the year is the Junior prom; it is eagerly awaited by everyone in the class. Each year a number of girls is nominated by their classmates to run for queen. The bid committee presented an especially attractive bid this year, a misty winter scene, highlighted with rhinestones. The decorating committee carried out the theme, "Frosted Fantasy," with glittering stars, snowflakes and silver icicles. The star-shaped throne made a sparkling background for queen, Jeri Fox, who looked radiant wearing her shimmering crown and royal robes. Jeri and her escort, Bob Levy, led the traditional first dance after the coronation. Angels danced to the lilting rhythms of Fred Werner and his band.

SWEETHEART ATTENDANTS

A fanfare of trumpets . . . the hush of the crowd . . . an excited gasp a few happy tears and a smiling face . . . the May queen is crowned. For her a moment that will live forever and for East the high point in its Red and White day celebration. The honorary junior and sophomore attendants and their escorts lined the aisles and the steps to the stage. After a fanfare by five trumpeters, the eight candidates entered. A wave of tenseness and suspense swept over the audience as the young ladies and their escorts took their places on the stage. Hildegard Stanley entered and sang a medley of eight songs, one to each girl.

Finally the big moment arrived, Hildegard approached Marilyn Van Derbur and sang "You Wonderful You." The Queen was crowned. The attendants bowed, congratulated her and made their exit from the stage.

Marilyn was a May queen attendant in her junior and sophomore years, and played the part of Mary in the Christmas pageant.

ROTC

The ROTC program at East is divided into many different phases. This program is designed to teach boys the importance of being Americans and their duty towards their country. The ROTC is supervised by the United States Army which trains each cadet thoroughly in every department and teaches him to respond correctly to his constituted authority. These men represent the future leaders of America.

PRIDE IS SHOWN in this cadet's erect stance at the completion of an interview by the Regimental Staff Examining board.

IN THE ROTC CLASSROOM Gerald Kaizer and Lew Hellerstein teach the many phases of military training. The students study and are making field maneuvers and many others which are necessary in military tactics.

At the beginning of each year every cadet is assigned to his platoon in the company where he first learns to drill under command. As he becomes better acquainted with military life, he acquires a sense of responsibility which proves to be invaluable in his activities which are to follow. Through his extra effort and accomplishment a cadet may be promoted in rank and receive honors

In addition to military procedures the ROTC has a personal hygiene and a first aid program. Through the use of calisthenics one day a week each cadet is taught to keep physically fit.

Another activity enthusiastically anticipated by cadets and eagerly prepared for by weeks of drill training is the Armistice day parade. This event stimulates patriotism in every boy.

THESE CADETS keep in perfect step as they prepare for the Armistice day parade. This parade is one of the many outside events in which the ROTC participates.

THE EXPRESSION OF VICTOR ROUSHAR exemplifies the determination of every ROTC cadet.

Near the end of each school year Federal inspection takes place. This event starts early in the morning and continues throughout the entire day. Commissioned officers from the United States Army come to East to view the academic achievement and the drill proficiency of the cadets. Cadets from first, second and third year are given examinations to test their knowledge of military functions and procedures.

THESE CADETS APPEAR CONFIDENT as they await the results of the Regimental examinations. These examinations are given each year to determine the top officers of the entire city.

ROTC

Marksmanship is another very important phase of military training. Cadets learn the use, the assembly and the functioning of many different weapons. They are trained on the rifle range and soon become excellent shots. As a boy becomes more proficient at this skill, he may become a member of the Rifle team. The Rifle team is made up of a select number of cadets who prove their ability in the use of the rifle.

PRE-MED

PRESENTING A $10 CHECK to Mrs. Martha Blumberg and Miss Lois Arnold of Sewe house is Bob Wetze, president of the Pre-Med club. The check given by the Red Cross and Pre-Med club is to buy a ceramic kiln for crippled children and adults.

WATCHING THE MOVIE "Johnny and the Seven League Boots," the story of a deformed child, are Pre-Med club members Betsy Chamberlin, Judy Gamble and Carolee [name obscured]. Movies are shown to the members at every other meeting.

For the medically minded students at East the Pre-Med club offers practical knowledge in the field of medicine.

The members of the Pre-Med club have had the opportunity to take part in field trips and to attend outstanding lectures that pertain to the field of medicine. This year, for the first time, the club sponsored an assembly and participated in numerous social activities. The members of this club strive for advanced knowledge in the medical profession.

Mr. Lawrence Knolle is the sponsor of the Pre-Med club. By his active interest in the club he creates an appreciation of the medical profession in the members of the group.

HI-Y CLUB

SEVERAL SPOTLIGHTS are HI-Y members. Don Shwader, Tom Seawell and R. J. King. HI-Y club promoted a 100 percent Spot light by giving room to room sales talks and encouraging the students to buy the paper.

PROMOTING SCHOOL SPIRIT by selling pep tags are Hi-Y members John Hamilton and George Linger. The sale of pep tags was one of the many projects undertaken by Hi-Y this year.

In its social and business activities Hi-Y is guided by an affiliation with the central YMCA. A wealth of civic and school benefits are the result of this association.

The purpose of Hi-Y is to afford its members a greater opportunity to become more useful and constructive to East High school and the community through the incomparable means of fellowship and teamwork.

Many speakers and movies are presented at Hi-Y meetings. This helps to acquaint the boys with the responsibility of citizenship.

Social activities traditional with Hi-Y include numerous parties and dances held throughout the year such as a dance honoring the All City football team.

PRE-LAW CLUB

PRE-LAW CLUB

A black and white photograph of a group of people in traditional attire, possibly a dance or performance. The image is heavily stylized with a high-contrast, almost binary color scheme, giving it a graphic, poster-like appearance. The figures are wearing headpieces and patterned clothing, and some are holding long poles or sticks.

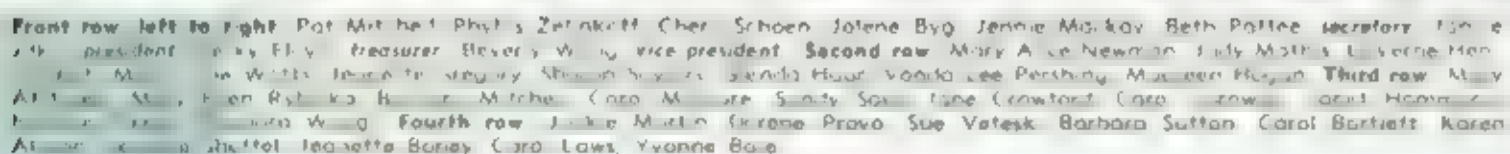

QUESTIONED IN COURT, Ronnie Shanke is initiated into Pre-Law club by Bill Kreutter. This has become a custom in which all new members participate in, have the customary speaking of the club.

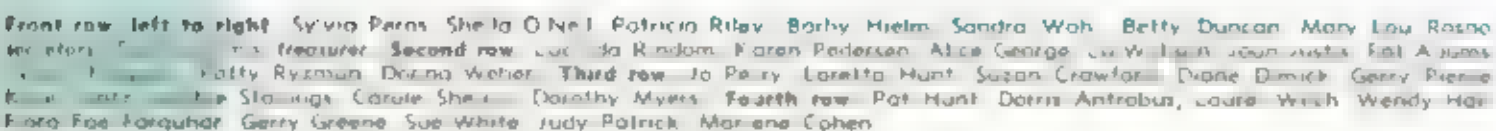

Membership in the Pre-Law club affords East high boys an introduction to prominent people in the business and professional world. Meetings and social gatherings in the homes of club members throughout the year establish a fellowship which is turned to good advantage in undertaking projects which require the utmost in cooperation from each member.

Some of the projects undertaken during the year by Pre-Law were a businessmen's luncheon with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a plane ride in conjunction with United Air Lines and a tour through the Denver Art Gallery.

Membership in the club is limited to 25 boys with grade averages of B or above.

GIRLS' BOWLING CLUB

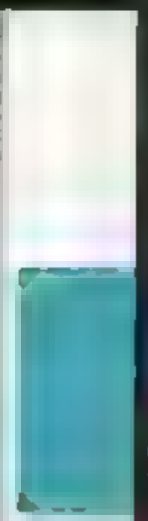

HOPING FOR A STRIKE, Barbara Hjelm, a member of Girls' Bowling club, prepares to roll the ball. The club's 75 members bowl every week.

This year the number of girls interested in bowling has become so large that the league is divided into two groups, each bowling on a different night of the week. Teams of four members bowl in league competition. There is also interschool, national and individual competition. At the end of the year the winners of meets receive trophies.

The purpose of Girls' Bowling is to promote good sportsmanship, to create an interest that can be carried throughout life and to have a wonderful time.

Since 1947 when it was started, the Girls' Bowling club has been one of East's most active organizations.

EXERCISING ENTHUSIASTICALLY Pat Dungan, Marilyn Van Derburg and Jean Newland do a take off on East football players during the Seraph Sister pep assembly. The Seraph Sisters presented a pep assembly this year besides doing their other service duties.

The Seraph Sisters are girls who compose the academic upper one-fourth of the senior class. One period a day donated to the school by each girl provides needed help for the office staff and faculty.

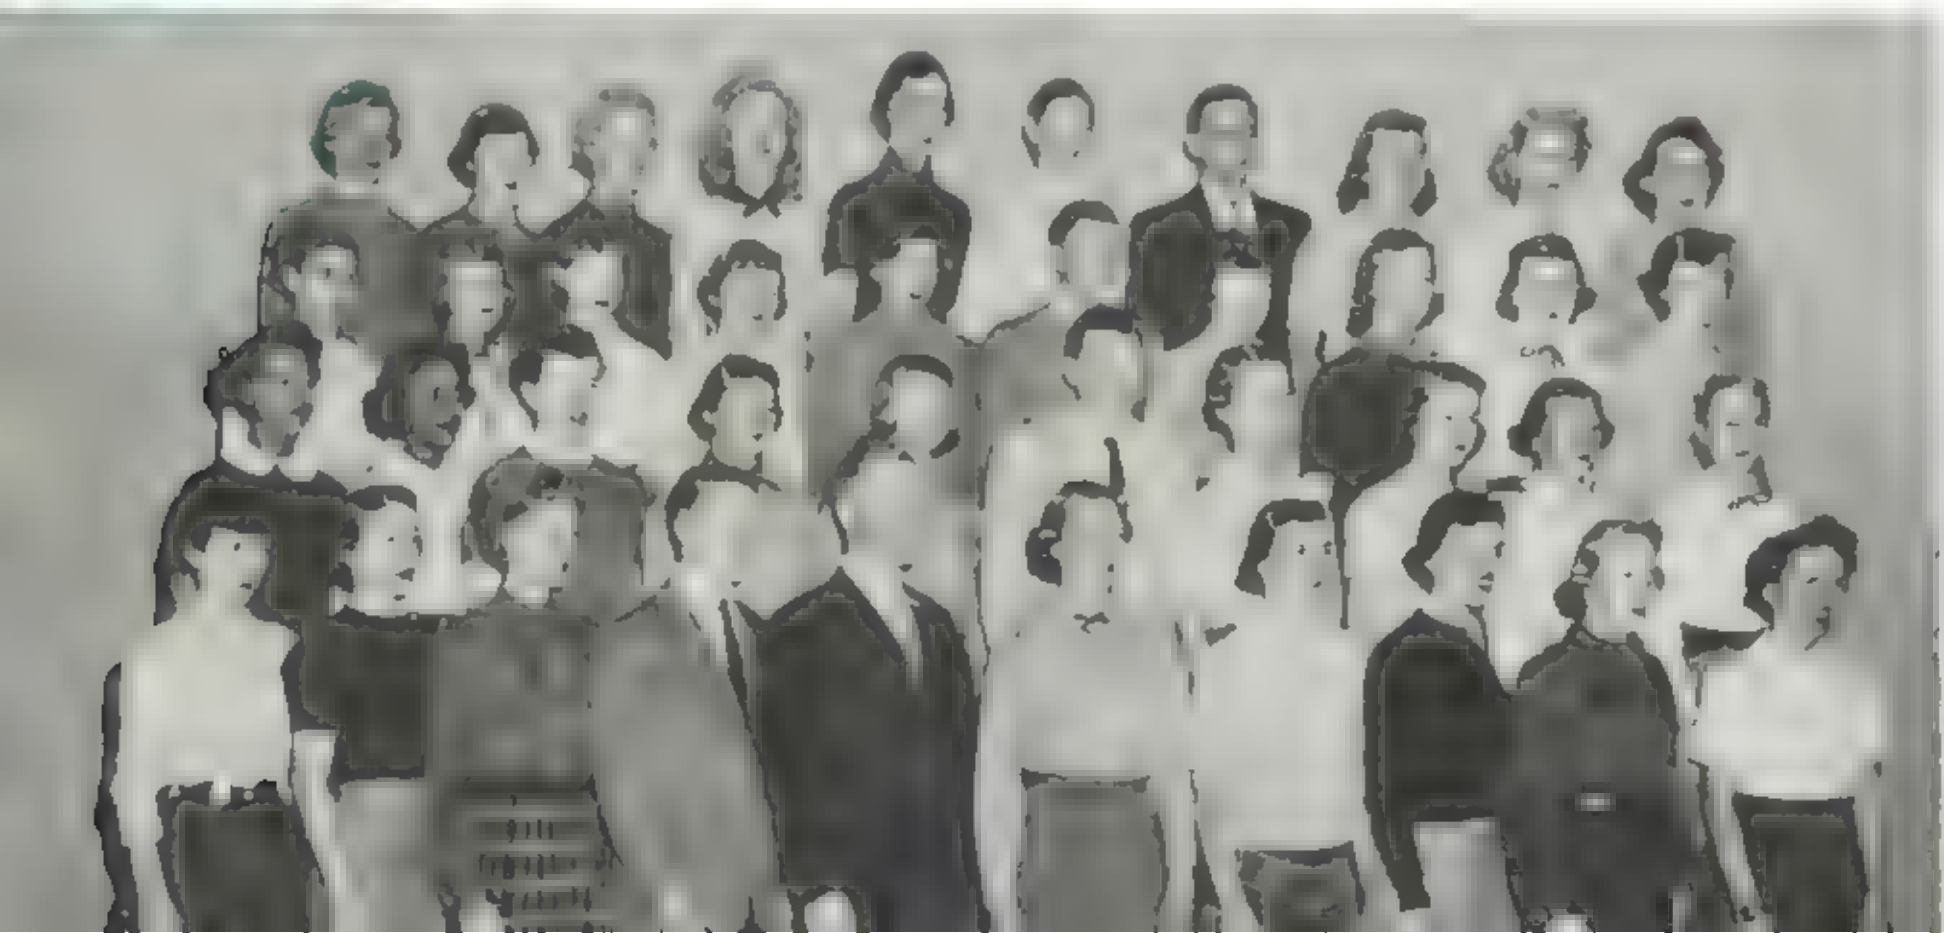

The Seraph Swing, the first dance of the year, is sponsored by this organization. The principal activities include many teas and the Senior Girl awards which are given at the end of the year. At Christmas time a needy family in the community is made happy through the donations of the Seraph Sisters.

This year the special project of the club was the decoration of Sewell House, a treatment center for crippled children. Murals, designed by the Seraphs and featuring Walt Disney and Mother Goose figures, were painted in various rooms at the center.

PRACTICING for the demonstration to be given between halves of a football game are White Jacket members Marcie Harrison, Rhoda Ginsberg, Kay Cornum, Fran Gathar, Paula Friedenthal and Carolyn Bell. White Jackets, consisting of about 115 members, promote school spirit at the athletic events.

If the weather be snow or sunshine, the White Jackets may be seen attending the football and basketball games, cheering heartily.

These girls are, indeed, the picture of school spirit at East. In their red skirts and white jackets, they set the mood for a cheering student body at every sports activity.

The White Jackets not only set the tempo for cheering but show remarkable ability when marching at half-time. During many of the games, the girls gave outstanding performances. Also, a pep assembly was staged by the members of White Jackets this year.

Membership in White Jackets is based upon scholastic standing, posture and good citizenship.

CONGRESS CLUB

The Congress club of East high school is the oldest organized high school club in this region. The members are boys who have a deep interest in the fields of government, speech and education. The objective of the club is to further interest in national affairs and give knowledge that will help its members in the business world.

Celebrating its golden anniversary this year, Congress club attended a session of the state senate to give its members a chance to see our government in action.

DISCUSSING THE CANDIDATES are Congress club members Arvi Kivi and Jon Martin. Congress club holds a traditional spring interview of the candidates for major school offices in which everyone is invited.

SCRIPT CLUB

The Script club offers its members an excellent opportunity to write and receive constructive criticism of their work.

For many students the Script club is their first chance to express their feelings and talents in writing.

SENIORS

The members of the Class of '55 enjoyed three prosperous and eventful years at East. The class sponsors, Miss Alice Wolter and Mr. Lawrence Garrett, led the seniors through the years with many wise and encouraging words.

The events of the Class of '55 started with the election of Don Shwayder as Sophomore Class president. A high point of the year was the Sophomore party, consisting of a skit, a talent show, refreshments and dancing.

The Junior prom was the dance which had the most significance for juniors of the Class of '55. It was at this dance that the queen, Katie Bowes, was crowned in a "Blue Heaven." The success of this year was due largely to the efforts of Roger Kinney, junior president.

The senior year was eagerly awaited by all. Dione Corsuch and Tom Inman were selected head girl and head boy. Chosen as Senior Class president was Jim Ogilvie, who contributed many constructive ideas.

The Senior Class play, "The Winslow Boy," was presented in the spring of the year; it was directed by Mrs. Genevieve Kreiner.

One of the last important senior events was the Senior prom. The theme of the Senior prom, held May 21, was "Secrets of the Sea."

JUNIORS

The juniors began their year with the election of Norm Fox as president. Chosen to be the assisting officers were Ed Morton, vice president, Sue McEachern, secretary, and Carol Sledge, treasurer. Giving a helping hand whenever it was needed were the two class sponsors, Miss L. Imogene Springer and Mr. Robert Brannberg.

The highlight of the year was the Junior prom. Preceding the dance was "Junior Spectacular," an assembly which was presented for the express purpose of introducing the queen candidates. The dance was held on December 11 in the boys' gym. Fred Werner's band completed the setting of "Frosted Fantasy." Toward the latter part of the evening Jeri Fox was crowned queen.

The last important activity in which the Juniors participated was Red and White day.

SOPHOMORES

Members of the sophomore class under the guidance of their sponsors, Mrs. Alice Call and Mr. Michael Mahonchak, enthusiastically began their first year at East. Election of the sophomore class officers was the first important event. They chose as their leaders: Stu Beresford, president; Linda Hillegas, vice-president; Suzie Cooper, secretary; and Carolyn Byrne, treasurer.

This year "Lullaby of Broadway" was chosen to be the theme of the sophomore class party. The novelty of the party was a musical in technicolor, "Two Tickets to Broadway." The film was followed by dancing in the front hall; music was furnished by Bob Young's band. Hot dogs and cokes were served. Committees carried out the New York setting very successfully. The general feeling was light and gay.

The climax of the sophomore activities ended with the Red and White day events. The class of '57 will long remember this momentous year.

A FAVORITE after school activity of Harriet Lund and John Edgar is doing homework in the English room.

JERRY BRIGGS reads his favorite magazine in the Boys' Social room. The Social rooms offer a pleasant pause from the hectic day.

MORRIS LORBER is busy studying for that big test while everyone eats their lunch.

"IT WON'T HURT MUCH," the doctor tells Lynne Halpern while Vonnie Names looks on. Most students at East High were given T. B. test shots this year.

JANICE BLOOM watches Mr. Thomas Gilligan check Bob Pearson's room in room 510. Many teachers are assigned duty as hall superintendents.

TIME OUT Forward Bob Zimmerman and guard George Lloyd take a breather in the East-South game.

"SPRECHEN SIE DEUTSCH?" Herish Bortnatz brushes up on his German. German, taught by Mrs. Blanche Paynter for the past several years, is one of the few languages offered at East HOPEFUL SPECTATORS, Annette Jones, Lys Lockhart and Nancy Price watch the players during the East West game. This was the only game East played at the new Manual high stadium this year.

DECORATING THE CHRISTMAS TREE for a songfest are Norm Fox, Vonne Names and Tom nman. This year the traditional dance around the Christmas tree was abolished in favor of a card-sing.

MR. DOMINIC ZARLENGO, the famous bow tie con-noisseur, is busy dreaming up another invention. Mr Zarlengo is well-known for his entertaining and worthwhile fabrications.

SANTA CLAUS HAS COME to hear what Jerry Han-non and Nancy Adams want for Christmas. The Spotlight cooperated with the Junior Red Cross council to bring Santa to East for the toy drive.

Handwritten notes on lined paper, likely a page from a notebook or ledger. The text is written in cursive and includes several lines of numbers and names, possibly representing a list or a set of data. The handwriting is somewhat faded and the paper shows signs of age.

A classroom scene

another row

a row of students

another

A tense moment on the bench

The basketball game — close-fought

The players (See — a friend of mine!)

A rehearsal on the stage

A script

A play

(or was it an assembly?)

These may be the moments which you will want to remember.

It is our hope that somewhere

In the 1955 Angelus you will find East high school — your East.

It's a pleasant feeling to be able to open this book and remember . . .

the fifty-five angelus was produced through the combined efforts of:
